

Adjudications on objections to administrative decisions related to mining industry, etc.

Those wishing to mine minerals, cut stone from quarries, or collect gravel, must obtain prior permission or approval from the Director of the Regional Bureau of Economy, Trade and Industry or governors of prefectures, etc.. Parties who have objections to the permission or approval may file adjudication with the Environmental Dispute Coordination Commission. The Commission makes adjudication awards following trial-like procedures.

Main administrative decisions subject to the Commission's adjudications

Process of adjudication

Application form (Japanese)