

List of Contributors

Sabine Kuhlmann has been Professor of Political Science, Public Administration, and Organization at the University of Potsdam since 2013. Since 2019 to 2023, she was appointed “Holder of the Hedda Anderson Chair” by the University of Lund as a visiting professor. Since 2011 she is Vice Chair of the National Regulatory Control Council of the German Federal Government. Her areas of research include comparative public administration, public sector reforms, better regulation and local government. She has been Editor-in-Chief of the International Review of Administrative Sciences (IRAS) since 2024. Her areas of research include comparative public administration, digital transformation, crisis governance, better regulation and local government. One recent book publication is Introduction to Comparative Public Administration, 3rd updated and revised Edition (2025), Edward Elgar co-authored with Hellmut Wollmann and Renate Reiter.

Email: sabine.kuhlmann@uni-potsdam.de

Ogawa Yamato is currently a Professor at the School of Law and Politics at Kwansei Gakuin University in Japan. He has been serving at Japan’s Ministry of Internal Affairs and Communications (MIC) since 2006 and is currently on a temporary assignment to the university. He holds a PhD in Policy Science from Waseda University and a Master of Public Administration (MPA) from the Gerald R. Ford School of Public Policy at the University of Michigan, Ann Arbor, USA. His main academic and professional interests include local public policy, local governance, co-production, and rural development. He is the author of a research monograph titled Collaborative Governance: Qualitative Integration of the Latest U.S. Research and Development of a Conceptual Framework, published in 2024. He is currently pursuing a second Ph.D. in rural development at Kobe University.

Email: gip89517@kwansei.ac.jp or musashitoyamato@hotmail.com

Masaki Yusuke is a Project Associate Professor at the University of Tokyo’s Graduate School of Public Policy. He also works for Japan’s Ministry of Internal Affairs and Communication and currently serves as the chief financial and human resources officer for the City of Kobe. He holds an AM degree from Harvard University, where he received the Joseph Fletcher Memorial Thesis Award. His research spans applied microeconomics and history, with peer-reviewed publications including “Reevaluating Prefectural Assemblies in Prewar Japan” and “Investigating the Epidemiological and Economic Effects of a Third-Party Certification Policy for Restaurants with COVID-19 Prevention Measures.”

Email: ymasaki@g.ecc.u-tokyo.ac.jp

Abe Hiroshige is currently a Director-General of economy and agriculture bureau at Chiba city government in Japan and is a former Director of the Information Management Department, General Affairs Bureau. He holds a Master of Laws (LL.M) from Chiba University. He is the author of several practical books about Japanese public officer. Email: hiroshige6816@city.chiba.lg.jp

Rosa Minhyo Cho is Vice President of International Affairs and Professor at Sungkyunkwan University, affiliated with the College of Social Sciences (Global Leader and Department of Public Administration) and the Graduate School of Governance (GSG). She received her PhD in Public Policy from the University of Chicago and an MPP from Georgetown University. Her research focuses on policy evaluation, welfare, education and employment, youth, immigration, and family policy. Dr. Cho has published extensively in journals such as Journal of Human Resources, Social Service Review, Asia Pacific Journal of Education, Journal of Urban Economics, Korean Policy Studies Review.

Email: chomh@skku.edu

Minjung Kim is a PhD candidate at the Graduate School of Governance, Sungkyunkwan University, and a researcher at the East Asia Collaboration Center (EACC). She holds a B.A. in Public Administration and International Commerce, as well as an MPA from the same university. Her research interests include policy evaluation, science and technology policy, innovation governance, and environmental policy. She previously worked as a researcher at the Science and Technology Policy Institute (STEPI). Her work has been published in journals such as the Asian Journal of Technology Innovation, Korean Journal of Policy Analysis and Evaluation, and the Journal of Korea Technology Innovation Society.

Email: minjung.k@skku.edu

Xufeng Zhu is Professor & Dean, School of Public Policy and Management, Tsinghua University. He received his PhD in Public Management. Research interests are public policy theories, think tanks and expert participation, sustainable development, science & technology policy. He is an author of The Politics of Expertise in China (2019) and seven other monographs and have published 40+ English articles in journals such as JPART, PAR, as well as dozens of articles in Chinese journals including Social Sciences in China—all highly prestigious academic journals in their respective fields.

Correspondence is School of Public Policy and Management, Tsinghua University, Beijing 100084, People's Republic of China.

Email: zhuxufeng@tsinghua.edu.cn

Lizan E. Perante-Calina is the Dean of the Graduate School of Public and Development Management at the Development Academy of the Philippines. A strong advocate of evidence-based research and innovation, she launched the Philippines' first credit-bearing Certificate Course on Foresight and Futures Thinking. A Doctor of Public Administration and two-time UP Diliman International Publication Awardee, she authored Hiraya

Foresight: The Indigenous Base of Futures Thinking and Imperatives of Foresight and Futures Thinking. She has represented the Philippines at UN CEPA (2024–2025), UN-POG, and global conferences, advancing SDGs, foresight, and innovation in governance and public administration education.

Email: lizanpcalina@gmail.com or calinal@dap.edu.ph

Shiva Hari Adhikari is the Director of Studies at the Nepal Administrative Staff College. He holds an M.Phil. in Population Studies from Tribhuvan University (2024) and a Master's in Public Administration from Seoul National University (2015), Republic of Korea, where he received the Award of Excellence. His major field of study includes public administration, governance, and public policy. He has led various research and training programs and authored several publications, including Competency of Local Government Officials and Organizational Performance and Political Economy Analysis of Local Legislature in Nepal.

Email: shiva.adhikari@nasc.org.np.

Pobsook Chamchong is an Assistant Professor and Deputy Director at the School of Public Policy, Chiang Mai University. She also serves as the coordinator of the Thailand Public Policy Network. Pobsook holds a PhD in Local Government and Public Policy from the Institute of Local Government Studies, University of Birmingham, UK. Her research interests include policy innovation, policy entrepreneurship, collaborative governance, inclusive policy design, city innovation, and foresight in policy development. She has published in journals such as the Journal of Asian Public Policy, Critical Policy Studies, Policy Studies, and the Journal of Housing and the Built Environment. Pobsook is currently a Steering Committee member of the Asia Pacific Public Policy Network (AP-PPN) and an editorial board member of the Journal of Asian Public Policy.

Email: pobsook.c@cmu.ac.th

Agus Pramusinto is a Professor of Public Administration at the Department of Public Policy and Management, Universitas Gadjah Mada, Indonesia. He completed his doctoral studies at the Australian National University. Currently, Agus is the Chair of the Indonesian Association for Public Administration and President of the Asian Association for Public Administration. He was once the Chair of the Indonesian Civil Service Commission (2019–2024). His research and publications are related to decentralization and local governance, merit systems and public sector reform. His writings include Ayano Hirose, Masaei Matsunaga, Ikujiro Nonaka, and Kiyotaka Yokomichi (eds), Knowledge Creation in Public Administration: Institutional Change in Southeast Asia and Japan pp: 55–83, Palgrave Macmillan, 2018 and in Jon S.T. Quah (ed), The Role of Public Bureaucracy in Policy Formulation and Implementation in Five ASEAN Countries, pp: 98–168, Cambridge University Press, 2016.

Email: agus.pramusinto@ugm.ac.id

Loo-See Beh is currently a Professor with the School of Business and Technology, IMU University and also an Honorary Professor at University Malaya. She is currently an editorial member of Serbian Journal of Management and has served in various committees and research capacities.

She was a professor with the Faculty of Business and Economics (previously Faculty of Economics and Administration) University Malaya prior to her retirement for over two decades, and with over 200 publications notably in international ranked journals as well as speakers/keynote speakers in numerous international conferences including as a reviewer for more than 130 high-ranked international journals as well as several leadership appointments. She has a PhD in Training Management and a Master in Political Science and her major fields of interests include management, public administration, smart cities, technology adoption, education, etc.

Email: lucybeh@gmail.com